GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.

A Political Sensation.

NEW YORK Nov 10—Purcell editor of the Rochester Union and chairman of the Democratic state committee has created a genuine political sensation by a published article attributing last Tuesday's Democratic defeats principally to the disclosure of the cipher correspondence which Purcell says complicated certain Democratic leaders in an alleged conspiracy to bribe and buy electors in the late presidential contest and pressed the charge of such conspiracy up to the very threshold of the Democratic candidate for the presidency This has led to the Democratic party the great advantage of the cry of fraud accomplished in the actual counting in of Hayes by presuming a prima facie case of fraud attempted in an unsuccessful effort of men in the closest family, personal and political relation to the Democratic candidate to do the same for him This, he says, lost New York, Connecticut and New Jersey, three states which gave Tilden and Hendricks fifty electoral votes. The article concludes

The future of the Democratic party demands the charge of fraud attempted to be made by the Republican press against men in a representative position in the Democratic party shall be promptly met by the Democratic house of the present congress when it reassembles and investigate to the end that the men implicated in it shall be either proved guilty and condemned, or proved innocent and acquitted. In any event the Democratic party must be vindicated and must wash its hands of all stain of fraud attempted as well as put its foot upon an accomplished fraud accomplished

The Robbery of Stewart's Grave

NEW YORK Nov 10—A searching examination was made to day of the vaults in St Mark's graveyard, and the police to day found traces of decomposed flesh on the iron fence which bound the Tenth street side of the church yard, and marks of the bag which had probably contained the body were found on the fence This discovery it is claimed shows that the body was taken from the church yard The police believe they have traced the way taken by the thieves to the side of the cemetery It is through the house of 129 East Tenth street a house occupied by Miss Newton as a boarding house, either they dragged the body From some suspicious circumstances, it seems quite probable that the body was taken into New Jersey about 2 o'clock Thursday night The police have some other clews as to the identity of the robber, and are now after him

California's Opportunity.

WASHINGTON Nov 9—The smallness of the Democratic majority thus far secured for the next house of representatives seems likely to facilitate very materially the attainment of legislation next session to restrict Chinese immigration

The Star this evening says The need of the California vote to add to the units in the vote for president by state delegations in the 46th congress will make it so much coveted by political organizations that it is quite probable the perplexing question of Chinese immigration will have a good deal to do with the verdict of the state Congress at its last session tackled the Chinese problem to the extent of adopting a resolution which the secretary of state communicated to the Pekin authorities which urged with military heat a revision of he Burlingame treaty It did nothing further The second session of the 45th congress would be confronted again with the question and it is quite probable that if the house of representatives does not take steps at least to limit the Chinese influx into California, the vote of the state will be hopelessly lost to the Democratic party The position in which both parties find themselves is perplexing."

It may be added that the Star's remarks concerning the Democratic house are also applicable though with somewhat less force to the senate

FINANCIAL POLICY

Advices from Washington say the secretary of the treasury will devote much of his forthcoming annual report to a discussion of the silver question He will not go so far as to urge entire repeal of the silver act at present but will press upon congress the necessity of limiting the coinage to a rate much below that now authorized At the present rate of coinage nearly $50 000,000 a year will leave the mints and at this rate it cannot be long till silver will become the metallic currency of the country in which event the coinage will of course fall nearly to the market value of silver bullion Since the silver law was enacted the market price of silver has continued to decline It is now worth about 91 an ounce less than when and the value of the silver in the dollar is now less than eighty three cents It requires no argument to show what the effect will be on the general currency of the country when the silver coinage becomes abundant enough to take the place of gold We shall then have resumption in debased silver and values will be adjusted on the silver basis Foreseeing this the secretary of the treasury will in his current annual report urge restriction of silver coinage A good deal of silver can be kept in circulation at par by returning notes of the small denominations and allowing silver dollars to take their place Already orders have been given to stop after January first the issue of any more small notes—ones and twos—to national banks It is believed that the issue of greenbacks of these denominations will also be curtailed or perhaps discontinued entirely By these methods the business of the country will probably be able to float indefinitely a limited quantity of the silver dollars at par The director of the mint has just finished his annual report to the secretary He also expresses the opinion that the coinage of silver dollars should be limited This view indeed is entertained by every person competent to form an opinion on the subject Congress will probably be in a mood now to consider the question with more candor than it exhibited last year.

A TRANSPARENT EXCUSE

The Standard's theory as to the proposed purchase of an elector in Oregon now is that Patrick telegraphed for the money 'simply intending to steal it.' Then for what purpose are we to infer that Kelly took up the matter right where Patrick left it (in fact Patrick on his departure turned it over to Kelly), and telegraphed for the same eight? The "organ" says Patrick wanted the money deposited in New York to his order He left a day or two afterwards, and subsequently did not propose to use the money in Oregon but appropriate it to his own use So shallow an excuse instantly furnishes its own confutation The money was telegraphed to Patrick in Oregon He sailed just before the telegram arrived leaving the matter in Kelly's hands Kelly answered that he "couldn't draw the eight," and directed that it be deposited in another way, so it could be drawn The deposit was made accordingly. We could not think of charging that Kelly was a partner with Patrick in a scheme to 'steal the money Yet this is just what the "organ's excuse would inevitably imply The money that Kelly was telegraphing for was the very same money and the very same amount that Patrick had telegraphed for, and it was first telegraphed to Oregon as Patrick had directed, and then after he left as Kelly directed The Standard forces a statement of these facts, and the public will draw the conclusions But we must repeat that it is a pity that a paper which is devoted exclusively to partisan interests has not judgment to treat its partisan friends with more consideration A judicious and resolute silence would probably be the safest refuge These clumsy subterfuges are about as bad as the expert's contradictory excuses on the state printing.

"A citizen," in whose hand we recognize one of the firm of Grover, Chadwick, Gilfry & Co, writes to the Standard that the state has lost nothing by the swamp land certificate given to Walker This may, or may not, be true We shall wait for the result After a while we shall see the committee's report and, since there is but one Republican on the committee of five, the report ought to be satisfactory to the swamp land firm It is intimated by 'Citizen Gilfry or Cann or whoever writes the letter, that Hon D P Thompson controls the committee This is another way the "organ has of discrediting its own political friends It is very evident why an attempt is made to ignore Mr Galloway His manly action in regard to the state printing and the expert is not forgotten, and his remark that a man of honor is always under oath, sticks it seems like a bur in the memory of those for whom it was intended as a rebuke

The draft of news for weeks past makes it almost certain that England must fight ere long to save her eastern policy, or back squarely out of it It is evident that Russia has used the Berlin treaty as a blind to cover a breathing spell, which has recruited her resources for renewal of the war Indeed she has hardly suspended her aggressive operations It is hardly too much to say that the mask has been fairly thrown off It is notable that she is pursuing the same policy now as in the fall of 1876 massing troops on the Black sea coast and the Balkans now as she massed them on the Pruth then ready to descend upon Constantinople in the spring But it will not take a whole summer's campaign to reach the goal of her desires this time. We shall see some more sport next summer—and wheat may possibly climb well up into the second dollar again

There is little wonder that Butler was so badly beaten Dennis Kearney hung upon him like a millstone On Saturday before election he told the New York World's Boston correspondent that if Butler was not elected Beacon street and Back Bay would run with blood and that Massachusetts would never be safe until the blue bloods were hanged to lamp-posts two on every post On being asked whether he did not fear the authorities he said he hoped they would interfere. He was ready for them and willing any time to sacrifice his life in this cause He said that perhaps there was need that some one man should die but the crisis had come and the men who created the wealth of the country ought to control it Talk like this took the rabble of the cities but in the country districts it drew out a full opposition vote

The Republican success in New York New Jersey and Connecticut is remarkable In these three states they made a gain of twelve members of congress, namely eight in New York two in Connecticut and two in New Jersey and in all they reverse the popular majorities of former elections and win the legislatures by strong majorities A Republican senator will be elected in Connecticut to take the place of Barnum Democrat Conkling no doubt will be re elected in New York In New Jersey there will be no election of senator till 1880

It took six columns of a Glasgow newspaper to print the list of stockholders in the bank that recently failed Only those who owned at least £1 000 of stock could be directors and the fewness of such holders shows how generally the shares were distributed among the middle classes Every shareholder even though he owned but one share is responsible for the debts of the bank to the full amount of his property This is of course financial ruin to a large number of poor and worthy people

It is now thought by the eastern press that it was Nephew Pelton who made the engagement with the St Louis belle to marry Mr Tilden without the knowledge of that gentleman the same as he engaged to buy the presidency for Mr Tilden without the former's knowledge or consent

The Tribune's Washington special thinks Senator Gordon will be compelled to ask the senate for an investigation in his case he being implicated in the recent cipher dispatches of attempting to corrupt the vote of South Carolina

MISAPPREHENSION AND EXPLANATION

HUBBARD Ogn Nov 8 18 8.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I have carefully perused the decision as published in THE OREGONIAN of Nov 2d delivered by Justices Field and Deady in the matter of Violet W Elliott vs. Joseph Teal Failing to comprehend from the chain of reasons set forth, how such a decision could be arrived at, I request you to set forth the facts that have proven incomprehensible to me and to others, to whom I have submitted the subject.

It is set forth that by the common law and likewise by the statutes of Oregon, that a married woman cannot convey her property unless her husband joins in the conveyance It was therefore decided that the power of attorney issued by her to her husband, on Dec. 14 1854 and also the deed signed by herself only July 22 1855 were both void. Thence I fail to understand—the husband possessing only an estate in abeyance—how he could make a legal transfer of the same causing the property of which Violet Elliott had never yet been divested legally to be held by the defendants, and [illegible] reversion after the termination of the [illegible] Your elucidation of this tangled matter will be eagerly awaited by your

'Reader's difficulty lies not in the 'tangled matter' of the decision, but in his gross misapprehension of it The estate which the husband took in the wife's land by virtue of the marriage was not 'an estate in abeyance by which he means we suppose, an estate in expectancy—one presently vested but to be enjoyed in the future—but in possession and enjoyment from the time the wife received the donation, until his death The law divested her of this estate and vested it in the husband and the wife's reversion or what belonged to her was exactly what was left after the determination—the expiration—of this life estate of the husband Therefore when the husband conveyed all his interest in the premises to Fuller the deed was effectual to pass such estate but so far as he undertook as the attorney of his wife to convey her interes in the premises the deed was void

An estate is said to be in abeyance when there is no person in being in whom it is vested. The freehold, by the rule of the common law, cannot be in abeyance—it must have an owner in existence But the reversion or remainder—the estate in expectancy may exist for a time without an owner in being—in abeyance In this case neither the freehold of the husband nor the reversion of the wife were ever in abeyance

Advices from Washington say the secretary of the treasury will devote much of his forth coming annual report to a discussion of the silver question He will not go so far as to urge entire repeal of the silver act at present but will press upon congress the necessity of limiting the coinage to a rate much below that now authorized At the present rate of coinage nearly $60 000 000 a year will leave the mints and at this rate it cannot be long till silver will become the metallic currency of the country in which event the coinage will of course fall nearly to the market value of silver bullion Since the silver law was enacted the market price of silver has continued to decline It is now worth about 11 an ounce less than then and the value of the silver in the dollar is now less than eighty three cents It requires no argument to show what the effect will be on the general currency of the country when the silver coinage becomes abundant enough to take the place of gold We shall then have resumption in debased silver and values will be adjusted on the silver basis Foreseeing this the secretary of the treasury will in his current annual report urge restriction of silver coinage. A good deal of silver can be kept in circulation at par by retiring notes of the small denominations and allowing silver dollars to take their place Already orders have been given to stop after January first the issue of any more small notes—ones and twos—to national banks It is believed that the issue of greenbacks of these denominations will also be curtailed or perhaps its continued entirely By these methods the business of the country will probably be able to float indefinitely a limited quantity of the silver dollars at par The director of the mint has just finished his annual report to the secretary He also expresses the opinion that the coinage of silver dollars should be limited This view indeed is entertained by every person competent to form an opinion on the subject Congress will probably be in a mood now to consider the question with more candor than it exhibited last year.

A TRANSPARENT EXCUSE

The Standard's theory as to the proposed purchase of an elector in Oregon now is that Patrick telegraphed for the money simply intending to steal it Then for what purpose are we to infer that Kelly took up the matter right where Patrick left it (in fact Patrick on his departure turned it over to Kelly), and telegraphed for the same object? The "organ says Patrick wanted the money deposited in New York to his order He left a day or two afterwards, and consequently did not propose to use the money in Oregon but appropriate it to his own use ' So shallow an excuse instantly furnishes its own confutation The money was telegraphed to Patrick in Oregon He sailed just before the telegram arrived leaving the matter in Kelly's hands Kelly answered that he "couldn't draw the eight and directed that it be deposited in another way, so it could be drawn The deposit was made accordingly We could not think of charging that Kelly was a partner with Patrick in a scheme to 'steal the money Yet this is just what the 'organ's excuse would inevitably imply The money that Kelly was telegraphing for was the very same money and the very same amount that Patrick had telegraphed for, and it was first telegraphed to Oregon as Patrick had directed, and then after he left as Kelly directed The Standard forces a statement of these facts, and the public will draw the conclusions But we must repeat that it is a pity that a paper which is devoted exclusively to partisan interests has not judgment to treat its partisan friends with more consideration A judicious and resolute silence would probably be the safest refuge These clumsy subterfuges are about as bad as the expert's contradictory excuses on the state printing

"A citizen," in whose hand we recognize one of the firm of Grover, Chadwick Gilfry & Co writes to the Standard that the state has lost nothing by the swamp land certificate given to Walker This may, or may not, be true We shall wait for the result After a while we shall see the committee's report and since there is but one Republican on the committee of five, the report ought to be satisfactory to the swamp land firm It is intimated by "Citizen Gilfry or Cann or whoever writes the letter, that Hon D P Thompson controls the committee This is another way the "organ has of discrediting its own political friends It is very evident why an attempt is made to ignore Mr Galloway His manly action in regard to the state printing and the expert is not forgotten and his remark that "a man of honor is always under oath, sticks it seems, like a burr in the memory of those for whom it was intended as a rebuke

The drift of news for weeks past makes it almost certain that England must fight ere long to save her eastern policy, or back squarely out of it It is evident that Russia has used the Berlin treaty as a blind to cover a breathing spell, which has recruited her resources for renewal of the war Indeed she has hardly suspended her aggressive operations It is hardly too much to say that the mask has been fairly thrown off It is notable that she is pursuing the same policy now as in the fall of 1876 massing troops on the Black sea coast and the Balkans now as she massed them on the Pruth then ready to descend upon Constantinople in the spring But it will not take a whole summer's campaign to reach the goal of her desires this time. We shall see some more sport next summer—and wheat may possibly climb well up into the second dollar again

There is little wonder that Butler was so badly beaten Dennis Kearney hung upon him like a millstone On Saturday before election he told the New York World's Boston correspondent that if Butler was not elected Beacon street and Back Bay would run with blood and that Massachusetts would never be safe until the blue blood is were hanged to lamp posts two on every post On being asked whether he did not fear the authorities he said he hoped they would interfere He was ready for them and willing any time to sacrifice his life in this cause He said that perhaps there was need of at some one man should die but the crisis had come and the men who created the wealth of the country ought to control it Talk like this to the rabble of the cities but in the country districts it drew out a full opposition vote

The Republican success in New York New Jersey and Connecticut is remarkable In these three states they made a gain of twelve members of congress, namely eight in New York two in Connecticut and two in New Jersey and in all they reverse the popular majorities of former elections and win the legislatures by strong majorities. A Republican senator will be elected in Connecticut to take the place of Barnum Democrat Conching no doubt will be re elected in New York In New Jersey there will be no election of senator till 1880

It took six columns of a Glasgow newspaper to print the list of stockholders in the bank that recently failed Only those who owned at least £1 000 of stock could be directors and the fewness of such holders shows how generally the shares were distributed among the middle classes Every shareholder even though he owned but one share is responsible for the debts of the bank to the full amount of his property This is of course financial ruin to a large number of poor and worthy people

It is now thought by the eastern press that it was Nephew Pelton who made the engagement with the St Louis belle to marry Mr Tilden without the knowledge of that gentleman the same as he engaged to buy the presidency for Mr Tilden without the reformer's knowledge or consent

The Tribune's Washington special thinks Senator Gordon will be compelled to ask the senate for an investigation in his case he being implicated in the recent cipher dispatches of attempting to corrupt the vote of South Carolina

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I have carefully perused the decision as published in THE OREGONIAN of Nov 24 delivered by Justices Field and Deady in the matter of Violet W Elliott vs Joseph Teal Failing to comprehend from the chain of reasons set forth, how such a decision could be arrived at, I request you to set forth the facts that have proven incomprehensible to me and to others to whom I have submitted the subject.

It is set forth that by the common law and likewise by the statutes of Oregon that a married woman cannot convey her property unless her husband joins in the conveyance It was therefore decided that the power of attorney issued by her to her husband on Dec. 14, 1854 and also the deed signed by herself only July 22 1855 were both void Thence I fail to understand—the husband, possessing only an estate in abeyance—how he could make a legal transfer of the same, causing the property of which Violet Elliott had never yet been divested legally to be held by the defendants, and, she in reversion after the termination of the freehold Your elucidation of this tangled matter will be eagerly awaited by your READER

Readers difficulty lies not in the tangled matter of the decision but in his gross misapprehension of it The estate which the husband took in the wife's land by virtue of the marriage was not an estate in abeyance by which he means we suppose an estate in expectancy—one presently vested but to be enjoyed in the future—but in possession and enjoyment from the time the wife received the donation until his death The law divested her of this estate and vested it in the husband and the wife's reversion or what belonged to her was exactly what was left after the determination—the expiration—of this life estate of the husband Therefore when the husband conveyed all his interest in the premises to Fuller the deed was effectual to pass such estate but so far as he undertook as the attorney of his wife to convey her interest in the premises the deed was void

An estate is said to be in abeyance when there is no person in being to whom it is vested The freehold, by the rule of the common law cannot be in abeyance—it must have an owner in existence But the reversion or remainder—the estate in expectancy may exist for a time without an owner in being—in abeyance In this case neither the freehold of the husband nor the reversion of the wife were ever in abeyance.

CITY.

BEY ARRESTED.—Edwin Percy a lad aged about 13 years, was arrested Saturday under the following circumstances The boy stepped into one of the jewelry stores of this city and while looking at a very pretty gold locket desired to sell it The jeweler took the locket and examining it, asked the lad how he came in possession of the same The boy said that he lived in East Portland that his father gave him the locket, that he was broke and having no use for the trinket, desired to sell it The jeweler, having some suspicions that the lad did not come into possession of the locket honestly, told him that he would keep it at the store until a policeman could go over with him (the boy) to his home in East Portland and see if it was all right which proved to be the case, he would purchase the locket and pay a good price for it To this proposition, young Percy cheerfully assented. The jeweler sent out for a police officer, but before one arrived the lad watched an opportunity and sloped. The locket was left in police headquarters and the officers notified of the fact. Young Percy was soon apprehended and lodged in the city jail where he is at present. The lad tells a number of contradictory stories about how the locket came into his possession He says he came over into Salem, where his father resides The locket is a handsome one It contains the picture of a young lady well known in Salem The locket is at police headquarters awaiting identification

WATER SCHEDULE.—The Inland Empire says

The weather and consequent low water in the Upper Columbia river makes it impossible for the boats to leave Celilo at 9 A M and reach the Umatilla rapids in time to run before dark. They therefore are compelled to lie at Umatilla all night and go on to Wallula the next morning The trains on the upper railroad are reduced to one per day showing plainly a decrease in the shipments of wheat at that point The connection days Wednesdays and Fridays, the Annie Faxon connecting on the first and last named days, and the Almota on the middle trip of the week. The last named boat makes a trip for freight only, on Mondays from Celilo bringing down passengers on her return The Lide Spencer puts in her trips as best she can without regard to schedule and brings down full loads of wheat, though she carries no up stream freight. No Snake river grain is coming down as all, though the Northwest is carrying her sixty tons per trip from Wallula to Lewiston averaging one trip per week at $25 per ton. After next year producers along the Snake river will be enabled to ship their grain during harvest time, thus saving them not only the storage on their grain for seven months, but also a like period of interest on money they have been compelled to borrow until they could sell their grain

BILLIARD MATCH.—Elston's billiard parlors were crowded on Saturday evening by lovers of billiards a match game being announced to come off between Josh Davies champion of Oregon, and W J Roach, a billiard player of considerable ability from California The game was the American 4 ball, 800 points up for a purse of $500 Davies was the favorite and stood 5 to 4 in the pools Up to 600 Roach had the lead when Davies by cool, calculating play passed and took the lead at one time over 100 ahead The game closed at 1 o'clock, Davies winning by 75 points Roach's largest runs were 52 45 43 40 and 39 Davies' largest runs were 46 44, 39, 37, and 31 and average 9¾

IMPROVEMENT CAVED.—Two Chinamen employed by Perry G. Baker in excavating at the corner of Eleventh and Taylor streets on Monday morning, narrowly escaped losing their lives While engaged in digging, the embankment started to fall The celestials saw it coming and ran, but they were not quick enough to escape in running one of the Chinamen struck his head violently against a wagon which was near Both men were caught and buried up to their armpits and had to be dug out When extricated the poor fellows could not walk One of them had his leg fractured

"LOST FOR."—Yesterday all that was left of Mr Harry Yeoman was interred in Lone Fir Cemetery The deceased was 37 years of age A post mortem examination revealed the sad havoc consequent on the habitual use of intoxicants A respectable burial was given the deceased by a few friends, prominent among the attendants we noticed Mr and Mrs Chase of this city Scripture was read and prayer offered before the body was removed from Capt Cooke's office, and at the grave by Chaplain Stubbs

LOCAL NOTES.—Our state is frequently mentioned in correspondence to eastern papers and generally in the highest terms Among the recent correspondents who have done us a visit was Mrs. Peter B Simons, who called at this office to obtain information. The lady writes for the Philadelphia Press, and judging from her remarks will do full justice to Oregon in her letters to that paper

APPOINTED.—Dell Linderman has been appointed agent of the O S N Co at Celilo in place of W. H McDonald who has held the position for the past four years That is one of the most important points on the company's line at present and as the grain trade on the Upper Columbia is on the increase, the cares and duties of the Celilo agency will be augmented

LOCAL PATRIOT.—Saturday afternoon a few Hazlands arrived on the north bound train in custody of an officer having been arrested in Lane county by the county judge of that county The unfortunate woman is over 70 years of age and is the mother of 20 children Her insanity is of a very violent character She was committed at once to the asylum

CHILDREN'S CONCERT.—The Sunday school at Lents in East Portland will on next Sunday evening hold a concert Rev Mr Dean of Lents will deliver an address and Rev Mr Dean will review the lesson The little folks will have a prominent place in the exercises The public are invited.

THE LOWER DOCK.—The W T & L Co's new steamer Willamette Chief which lies at the dock at Oregon City, is rapidly approaching completion, and when completed will be a handsome craft and a credit to the company

FROM ASTORIA.—A dispatch from Astoria dated at 10:30 A M says 'British ship Inverness, will be here at noon bar favorable for vessels of light draft passing to sea, light wind from the northeast, weather pleasant"

DAMAGES FOR DAMAGES.—Saturday afternoon the jury in the case of Miss Mollie Lahey vs Frank Knecht (action for the recovery of $20 damages for alleged breach of promise) rendered a verdict for $2,000 in favor of the plaintiff

CIRCUIT COURT.—In county court the jury in the case of Corbett, Failing & Co vs F A Chenoweth (an attachment suit for the recovery of money) rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $213 30

OUTWARD SEA.—The steamer Geo W Elder crossed the bar, bound out Saturday morning at 8 o'clock The steamship Great Republic is expected to sea at a quarter past 10 o clock this forenoon The Republic sailed the same day

APPOINTED.—R. H. Love city assessor has removed his office to Mr S P Lee's place on Front, between First street. Those having business with Mr Love will bear this change of location in mind

TO SAIL.—The steamship City of Chester is announced to sail hence to morrow morning at 9 o'clock, with passengers and freight

ARRIVED.—The steamship Idaho and the steamers Tom Corwin both arrived at San Francisco Saturday

John B. Bergman has another lot of those popular pants on the Oregon. Housekeepers should call in and see.

DEATH—VERDICT.

Friday a man named Harry Yeoman was found dead in his room over the Grand Central Varieties on First street From appearances Yeoman had died suddenly A few days before deceased became involved in a row with Charles Lawrence during which he received a violent kick in the region of the stomach It was thought that the blow had something to do with Yeoman's death and Coroner Cooke had a post mortem held at the time of the inquest Saturday the case was thoroughly investigated and the following

VERDICT RENDERED

Inquisition taken at Coroner Cooke's office on the 9th day of November, 1878 before H Cooke coroner of said county upon view of the body of said Harry Yeoman then and there lying dead, upon the oath of six good and lawful men of said county who being duly summoned and sworn to inquire into the circumstances attending the death of the said Harry Yeoman and by whom the same was produced and in what manner and when and where the said Harry Yeoman came to his death do say upon their oaths aforesaid that Harry Yeoman came to his death by natural cause caused by excessive drink In witness whereof as well the said coroner as the jurors aforesaid, have to this inquisition set their hands and seals on the day of the date hereof J H ROBINSON Foreman

INTERESTING TO LADIES.—Dickey's Creme de Lis has now been before the public for ten years during which time this beautiful preparation has met with the highest approval at the hands of the fair sex—being the only article of the kind which has been used it will only be on a perfect preparation of its kind Every ingredient entering the composition of Dickey's Creme de Lis is subjected to the most rigid test of modern chemistry to insure the uniformity and purity of its combination and neither time nor expense have been spared to make it perfect—it being well known the public will appreciate and support a truly meritorious article Several new beautifiers under various names have lately started into existence but Dickey's Creme de Lis has no competition in merit, Sold by all druggists.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—This popular place of amusement was crowded to overflowing Saturday afternoon at matinee Leah the Forsaken, was played for the last time This piece was produced in a very acceptable manner Miss Dargon as the forlorn and forsaken Jewess appeared to very excellent advantage—in truth, Deborah must be accorded a front rank in that lady's greatest and most realistic impersonations The support was unusually prompt Saturday evening Lucretia Borgia that most somber and gloomiest of tragedies was rendered to a large audience The piece was handsomely mounted, with correct and rich costuming and harmonizing mechanical effects Miss Dargon personated the title role Lucretia Borgia as interpreted by this lady is a highly artistic conception of the part Alternately statuesque and impassioned her attitude and demeanor varying in admirable keeping with the changes of the fitful moods of the imperious Duchess and pitiless poisoner and the mother yearning for the embraces of the son her contending pride and fears forbid her to avow Miss Dargon's elocution is never inferior to the grand scale of her acting her voice is at once powerful and flexible her intonation clear and her accentuation correct In her most impassioned moments she never oversteps the modesty of nature, and although there is in her impersonation no lack of dramatic fire the lady never descends to rant and fustian As to the Duke Mr Ludwig again easily surpassed his friends He seemed to have a very correct conception of the dramatic requirements of the character and carried them out faithfully and conscientiously Nor was he found deficient in strength and intensity when these elements were wanted Mr Ward's Gennaro is worthy of complimentary mention Although the character is rarely in his legitimate line yet with that disadvantage to contend against the gentleman acquitted himself to the evident satisfaction and delight of the audience His acting in the closing scene was characterized by much force and effectiveness He deservedly shared the honors of the evening and was honored with a call before the curtain with Miss Dargon Mr White as the remorseless and perfidious Gastilian ever willing and ready to use the stiletto or fatal chalice to aid the hideous purposes of his cruel mistress gave a very correct and effective impersonation Mr Howard Mr Wade Miss Wade Mr Allen Mrs Allen and the remainder of the cast filled their allotted roles well

HENRY THE EIGHTH.—This great play by Divine William, will be produced at New Market Theater this evening Miss Dargon will personate the role of Catherine of Arragon It is conceded to be one of the lady's greatest impersonations and the eastern press has been lavish in bestowing encomiums on her matchless rendition of this character A great English writer in speaking of Shakespeare's dramas says 'The play of Henry the Eighth' is one of those, which still keeps possession of the stage by the splendor of its pageantry The coronation about forty years ago drew the people together in multitudes for a great part of the winter Not pomp is not the only merit of this play The most sorrowful and virtuous distress of Katherine have furnished some scenes which may be justly numbered among the great efforts of tragedy But the genius of Shakespeare come in and goes out with Katherine Every other part may be easily conceived and can be well written The second scene of the fourth act is above any other of Shakspeare's tragedies and perhaps above any scene of any other poet tender and pathetic without gods or furies or poison or pressive without the help of romantic circumstances without improbable sallies of poetical lamentation and without any throes of tumultuous misery The play has been carefully rehearsed and can not fail to be produced in excellent style The following is the distribution of characters Catherine Miss Dargon 'Henry the VIII J M Ward Cardinal Wolsey J S Lindsay Cardinal Campus Mr Howard Duke of Buckingham P J Wade Duke of Norfolk R G White Lord Chamberlain J B Robinson Cromwell Mr Sutherland Miss Bullen Miss Kent Patience Mrs McLellan Mr Porter has painted a number of very handsome and appropriate scenes for this play

Cure of Dyspepsia and Chronic Diarrhœa.

For the benefit of suffering humanity I deem it my imperative duty to make known to the public what I as well as done for me by C M Wood Having been subject to dyspepsia for some 14 or 15 years, and continuing to grow worse until about four months ago when it ran into chronic diarrhœa and assumed a very dangerous condition—so much so that I found I would be compelled to stop my duties or find some relief and having seen one of Dr Wood's circulars, I concluded to consult him and finally to be treated by him for one month the result of which I give in a few words I feel that I am as sound as I ever have been and that so far as my disease is concerned I am perfectly cured JOHN R CURRY

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Secret Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorhœa Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies on y for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicine or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
